STUDY SUPPORTS SINGLE-QUESTION ALCOHOL SCREEN FOR ADOLESCENTS

A single screening question about drinking frequency in the past year could help doctors identify adolescents at risk for alcohol problems, according to a new study funded by the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA). Conducted by researchers at the University of Pittsburgh, who collaborated with a network of rural primary care practitioners, the study also supports the use of the age-based screening thresholds put forward in NIAAA's Alcohol Screening and Brief Intervention for Youth: A Practitioner's Guide.

NCCIH CLINICAL DIGEST: AUTISM SPECTRUM DISORDER AND COMPLEMENTARY HEALTH APPROACHES

Many parents choose complementary health approaches for their children with autism spectrum disorders (ASD) to help manage symptoms; however, despite this use there is a paucity of high-quality research focused on complementary approaches for ASD. This issue of the National Center for Complimentary and Integrated Health digest provides information on the evidence base of several commonly used complementary health approaches for ASD. <https://nccih.nih.gov/health/providers/digest/autism-spectrum-disorder>

NIDA: REVIEW ARTICLE OUTLINES STRATEGIES TO REDUCE OPIOID ABUSE RISK

A review article published in The New England Journal of Medicine by National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA) Director Dr. Nora Volkow and Dr. Thomas McLellan, co-founder and Chair of the Board of the Treatment Research Institute, summarizes recent research to address common misconceptions regarding the abuse-related risks of opioid analgesics and highlights strategies to minimize those risks. The review focuses on the therapeutic and abuse-producing effects of opioids, why they can be diverted and abused, and the importance of understanding the differences between tolerance, dependence, and addiction. The authors discuss common strategies that can help lessen the risks of opioid abuse, including effective dosing, and regular monitoring and assessment. <https://www.drugabuse.gov/news-events/news-releases/2016/03/review-article-outlines-strategies-to-reduce-opioid-abuse-risk>

NEW FROM CDC

NEW RESOURCES ON ADVERSE CHILDHOOD EXPERIENCES FOR NATIONAL CHILD ABUSE PREVENTION MONTH

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) has released new resources about Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs) -- traumatic events that impact lifelong health and opportunity. ACEs have been linked to risky behaviors, chronic health conditions, educational and employment challenges, and early death. CDC is committed to preventing ACEs. The new ACE resources available on CDC's website will help communities better understand ACEs, their health impact, and strategies for prevention. New resources include infographics, a map of states collecting ACE data, how ACEs can be prevented, and presentation graphics for public health practitioners.

FEDERAL STUDY INCREASES UNDERSTANDING OF HOMELESS YOUTH

More than half of homeless youth become homeless for the first time because they are asked to leave home by a parent or caregiver, and more than half say they have tried to stay at a shelter but it was full. Those findings resulted from a study released by the HHS Administration for Children and Families (ACF). This blog post outlines the results from this first-of-its-kind study, funded by ACF's Family and Youth Services Bureau and conducted by researchers at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, which focused on 873 youth ages 14 to 21 in 11 cities. Respondents included street youth receiving services from ACF's Street Outreach Program (SOP) grantees and street youth who were not currently using services from SOP grantees.

WEBINAR: BUILDING SYSTEM CAPACITY TO EMPLOY PEOPLE EXPERIENCING HOMELESSNESS

APRIL 21, 2016, 1:00 PM ET

This webinar is the second in a four-part webinar series titled “Housing + Employment Works?” The series focuses on how Continuum of Care (CoC) leadership, CoC program recipients, and local workforce professionals can more effectively provide employment supports for homeless and at-risk job seekers. The webinar series is sponsored by U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, the U.S. Department of Labor, and the USICH. This webinar will introduce the services provided through the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) and the opportunities for collaboration with their workforce boards. The webinar will cover services available through WIOA and the American Job Centers and examples of local Workforce Investment Boards collaborations with the CoCs in Portland, Oregon and Houston, Texas. <https://www.hudexchange.info/news/building-system-capacity-to-employ-people-experiencing-homelessness-webinar/>

WEBINAR: BEST PRACTICES IN SELF-DIRECTED CARE TO SUPPORT RECOVERY IN WOMEN

APRIL 21, 2016, 2:00-3:30 PM ET

Building relationships and support systems is an important part of recovery. Mental Health America’s It’s My Life: Social Self-Directed Care program combined evidenced-based practices of peer support and psychiatric rehabilitation with self-directed care and life coaching to support those in recovery, and to help some of the most isolated members of our communities to become more connected to others. This SAMHSA-sponsored webinar will provide an overview of the program, guidance on what was learned, and a discussion of the challenges and benefits of programs integrating a focus on social connection in recovery. ## WEBINAR: PREVENTION OF SEXUAL ABUSE OF CHILDREN

APRIL 28, 2016, 1:00-2:30 PM ET

Child sexual abuse refers to the entire spectrum of sexual crimes and offenses in which children up to age 17 are victims. The HHS' Children's Bureau report, Child Maltreatment 2010, found that 9.2 percent of victimized children were sexually assaulted, with children between the ages of 7 and 13 being the most vulnerable to sexual abuse. Child sexual abuse victims often feel significant distress, and display a myriad of short- and long-term psychological symptoms and developmental delays, and they are at increased risk for experiencing future sexual assaults. This webinar will discuss promising strategies for prevention of child sexual abuse, including school-based education, parent education, treatment for victims, treatment for juvenile and adult offenders, law enforcement training, and interviewer training.

VIDEOCAST LECTURE: CHANGE YOUR BRAIN BY TRANSFORMING YOUR MIND

MAY 3, 2016, 10:00 AM ET, BETHESDA, MD (VIDEOCAST AVAILABLE)

This NCCIH talk will present an overview of studies on neural changes associated with different forms of meditation. From the perspective of Western neuroscience, different forms of meditation can be conceptualized as mental training to promote the regulation of emotion and attention. Data from studies on long-term meditation practitioners as well as those with shorter durations of training will be highlighted. In addition, some longitudinal studies that track changes over time with meditation practice will be reviewed. In addition to the neural changes that have been observed, this talk will also summarize changes that have been found in peripheral biology that may modulate physical health and illness. The overall conclusions from these studies is that one can transform the mind through meditation, and thereby alter the brain and the periphery in ways that may be beneficial for mental and physical health, and for well-being.

CALLS FOR PUBLIC INPUT

SAMHSA 2016 VOICE AWARDS: SEEKING NOMINATIONS

For the past 11 years, SAMHSA's Voice Awards program has helped improve the nation's views and knowledge about mental health and addiction issues. It does this by recognizing exemplary television and film productions that raise public awareness as well as community leaders whose work demonstrates that recovery from mental health conditions and addictions is not only possible, but is taking place every day. The Voice Awards help bring mental health and addictions out of the shadows, but there are still many stories that can be spotlighted. In 2016, the Voice Awards will focus on the role that family support--between parents, children, spouses/partners, siblings, and other close family relationships--plays in inspiring hope and resilience for people experiencing a mental and/or substance use disorder. Special consideration will be given to Voice Awards nominees that highlight the importance of meaningful family support in all aspects of prevention, treatment, and recovery. Nominations are open to anyone. Multiple nominations and self-nominations are welcome. Nominations are due on April 22, 2016.

<http://www.samhsa.gov/voice-awards/submit-nominations>

REQUEST FOR INFORMATION (RFI): BUILDING A SET OF RECOMMENDED TASKS AND MEASURES FOR THE RDOC MATRIX

NIMH is interested in developing a well-specified list of tasks, paradigms, and measures for investigators to consider using to measure the constructs of the Research Domain Criteria (RDoC) matrix. As a part of this effort, NIMH seeks input about existing tests with known construct validity and general suggestions on the most important criteria to consider when selecting candidate tests. Comments from members of both the research and clinical communities are welcome. Responses accepted through April 22, 2016.

HEALTHY PEOPLE 2030: SEEKING NOMINATIONS FOR ADVISORY COMMITTEE

HHS has begun planning for Healthy People 2030, scheduled for release in 2020. The Healthy People initiative establishes disease prevention and health promotion objectives for the nation. The Office of Disease Prevention and Health Promotion is seeking nominations for members of the Secretary's Advisory Committee on National Health Promotion and Disease Prevention Objectives for 2030. The deadline for nominations has been extended until 6:00 PM ET on May 2, 2016.

COMMENTS ON PROPOSED RULE: MAT FOR OPIOID USE DISORDERS

HHS proposes a rule to increase the highest patient limit for qualified physicians to treat opioid use disorder under section 303(g)(2) of the Controlled Substances Act from 100 to 200. The purpose of the proposed rule is to increase access to treatment for opioid use disorder while reducing the opportunity for diversion of the medication to unlawful use. Comments are being accepted on this proposed rule through 5:00 PM ET on May 31, 2016. <https://content.govdelivery.com/accounts/USSAMHSA/bulletins/13fdb4d>

OPIOID RECOVERY APP CHALLENGE

SAMHSA launched a new challenge to spur developers to create a mobile application (app) that provides additional recovery support to patients receiving treatment for opioid misuse. The app may be used as part of a patient's comprehensive treatment plan, which includes counseling and participation in social support programs. The goal is to assist people in recovery in accessing resources, educational materials, information, and social supports through technology. SAMHSA is accepting submissions through May 27, 2016.
